CHIEF MOUNTAIN.
Manager.

On the 19th of the month the "stork" left a parcel at the home of J. U. Allred. The parcel turned out to be a fine baby boy. Mr. Allred's mother is attending physician, nurse, clothes washer and cook. That's the kind of a mother to have.

C. D. Fox and wife, former residence of Raymond, are with us again for a short time. Mr. Fox has a few interests in the country which he is trying to close up.

Mr. Joe Vandale and Mary Deane of Montana both of which are breeds procured a marriage license and were married by Bishop Anderson.

The 2nd Ward have contracted to furnish four hundred lunches to the trainmen on the 21st. The lunches will consist of hot coffee, tea, chocolate, sandwiches and dessert. Also lemonade for the thirsty. The 2nd Ward is always ready to take some work and pay off debts.

J. W. Evans has been away on sugar beet business in Cardston, Woodford and Raley. He reports the beet crops in these places to be satisfactory and the people are convinced they can grow beets in this country and in the future will increase the acreage of sugar beets on their farms in the place of grains.

We are very pleased to hear that a series of lectures is to be given at the Academy at different dates through the winter season, the first lecture to take place the 21st of November. These lectures are furnished indirectly by the government to us because we have an academy here. The public is invited to attend; no charge is made. Such opportunities are worth something and such an attitude towards all of the higher institutions of education by the government is very commendable.

A representative of the Springfield Life Insurance Company, was a business visitor to Raymond Wednesday. While here he was the guest of O. H. Snow, the Springfield agent here.

Joe VanDale the breed who was married by Dr. Anderson last week procured his marriage license under false pretence. The Indian girl he married being only fifteen years old. The girls father is attempting to have the marriage annulled.

Mr. Editor

Dear Sir:—

Some people believe that a drunken person has as much right in public places and on the streets of the city of Raymond as a sober person, unless they are making a disturbance.

The person or persons believing this are ignorant of the fact that I have the law at my back and further more I will not tolerate it neither in Public places nor on the streets of Raymond.

MARSHAL.

The Barrier Made Big Hit.

A fine representation of Raymond theatre goers was out last Monday night to greet the production of Klaw Erlangers New York success "The Barrier". A stinging criticism was heard after this performance and those after some of the lighter troupes that have visited Raymond lately.

This is the style of a show we want, something solid, we feel that we got something for our money and the opera house management is to be congratulated upon its securing such a good nights entertainment for the Raymond public it was certainly a treat.

Mr. Frank Jensen who took the "Squaw man" and the leading lady were the stars of the company. But all of the roles were exceptionally well portrayed and the audience was held from start to finish. There were no fluctuations, everything was as smooth as could be and the audience forgot their surroundings and all except just the play going on before them.

This company will likely return the latter part of December or the first part of January and will play the beautiful religious drama "The Rosary". No doubt they will be accorded a splendid welcome.

An Old Foe Disposed Of.

A large, grey, prairie wolf was killed this week on the Red Bank by Pete Russell, Ed Fairbanks assisted in the finishing touches.

This bonanza or goldmine was cornered and was killed with rocks. Some people ask why a wolf is a gold mine, well the government bounty is fifty dollars, the Knight Sugar Co. is fifty dollars and the McIntyre is fifty dollars and Pat Burns gives a bounty, so any cow boy that is lucky enough to get a wolf obtained in the neighborhood of $200.00, or four months wages at one crack.

Ed Fairbanks is now busy telling everybody how it was done. There are two or three wolves that have been located in the southern country that for the last three seasons have given the cattle men a me trouble.

The Boston Opera Company.

At the Opera House Wednesday November 5th.

Arrangements have been perfected, where by the amusement lovers of this city will have a chance of enjoying one of the best comic operas ever heard here. The Beggar Prince has long been a favorite in the eastern states, playing the same territory year after year.

Among the principals are to be found the best in comic opera. The prima donna soprano, Miss Hortense Travers, it is said she has the distinction of being the youngest prima donna on the American Stage and she possesses a magnificent voice, rich in tone, brilliant and powerful, and is also reputed to be a remarkably handsome woman. Miss Jessica Clement, the mezzo soprano from the thirteenth hills of Scotland, possesses a voice of which to be proud. There are two comedians that are away from the production—Mr. Jack Leslie and Mr. Ray Southard, and their antics and funny business permeates throughout the entire three acts. This will be one of the principal event of the season, and music lovers should not miss the opportunity of seeing this talented company while in our city.

Geo. Selman is laying off to day and his face is several shades redder than usual. The cause a fine new ten pound baby boy born on his grandfathers birthday, the 30th and was named to be Charles. Grandpa, Grandma and George are walking on air to day.

What We Are Doing At The K. A.

Wednesday morning one of the most interesting lectures the students have yet listened to this year was given by Miss Spencer, the kindergarten teacher, along the line of her work. After giving us a historical sketch of the great founder of the movement, Fredrick Froebel, she discussed the methods of the work and some of the underlying principles. The lecture was followed by a violin solo by Bro. Fred Nye.

Raymond is Again Lucky

On the evening of Friday, November 21st, Dr. Alexander, Prof. of Classics in the Alberta University will deliver a lecture in the Knight Academy Gymnasium on "The Greek Gods; the Message of the Greeks to us." On Jan. 5th and Feb. 5th, other lectures will be given; by whom and the subject of which will be announced later. These three lectures are given by the Department of Extension in the University and come at us free of charge. The Academy feels extremely fortunate in being able to provide this phase of entertainment for the public of Raymond and is confident that the spirit of education and appreciation that characterize this little "burg" will manifest itself on these occasions.

An uncanny ghost like feeling is all ready beginning to prevail in the unusually calm halls of the Academy. What it will be this Friday we can only guess and they come out to see. Those never tiring important sophomores are earning a high success and the spirit of restless anticipation felt among all the students is predicting a sure one. Customs from cats to bats, from brownies to witches are occupying the places of the forgotten kings and queens. Sir Roger and all his club are excited for the present and mathematical problems greater than those in text books are now bewildering the heads of the graduated Freshmen. The strangers in the Academy never ask who the Sophomores are.

Coming attractions At Raymont.

The Coming attractions at the Opera House are tomorrow night Hollows Symphony Orchestra, November 5th, the Beggar Prince Opera Company, Nov. 8 the M. I. A. Concert. On Nov. 10th the big trainmen hall and on the 25th, the Sanford Dodge will visit Raymond.

Surely Raymond should be satisfied with this list of attractions. Anyone who doesn't get enough amusement out of these attractions can attend the dances in the Prarie Queen Hotel Stirling.

Mrs. Geo. Higgs and children left last Saturday for California to join her husband. Mrs. Higgs has a young son, several weeks in mid visiting with her many relatives and friends. Miss Matilda Walton accompanied them as far as Virden.

A BOUQUET OF FLOWERS

It Told a Story Without Words

By EMILY WESTBROOK

Mrs. Van Tromp of New York was a noble creature. She was a widow with one daughter, Madeline, who was obliged to live with her mother, but Madeline was a sensible girl, and, although not averse to seeing foreign lands, was not minded to spend her life in traveling the world.

In their wanderings the Van Tromps found themselves in Bombay, India. Having done that country so far as women tourists could, Mrs. Van Tromp was much impressed with the display of wealth of the rulers and especially the jewels with which they decorated themselves, for ornaments are dear to the feminine heart. It is quite likely that if a lady, covered from the waist up with gems, had asked for the hand of her daughter she would have given her consent instantly.

Madeline, however, could not see in one place or the form what was a masterpiece. The Van Tromps left the city of Bombay to visit across the Arabian Sea and pass through the Straits of Malacca to London. Such a journey in a steamer vessel requires a great deal of time, and during the time together in her cabin before the end to become pretty well acquainted.

Mrs. Van Tromp was sitting one day on deck in a stateroom cabin reading an novel when the wind blew her veil off her head and sent it sailing. It was picked up by a gentleman with a tawny, curly hair, and who had looked to her with a profound bow. She was so distinguished looking that instead of giving the man a cold stare, she thought that she would have accepted an ordinary person as her husband.

From that time Mrs. Van Tromp was no longer a widow, but a married woman. The gentleman, however, was not a man of fortune, but a man of letters, and his name was Captain Macdonald. He was a man of letters, and his name was Captain Macdonald.

Now, Mrs. Van Tromp was a woman of letters, and her husband was a man of letters. They were a man of letters, and her husband was a man of letters. They were a man of letters, and her husband was a man of letters.

It was therefore so improper to her entering into conversation with him that she was obliged to keep her mouth shut. She was a woman of letters, and her husband was a man of letters. They were a man of letters, and her husband was a man of letters.

Madeline, one of the most famous in the world, was a woman of letters, and her husband was a man of letters. They were a man of letters, and her husband was a man of letters.

This was quite enough to induce Mrs. Van Tromp to plan for a wedding. She was a woman of letters, and her husband was a man of letters. They were a man of letters, and her husband was a man of letters.

Mrs. Van Tromp had become such a traveler that she was not averse to picking up acquaintances during a voyage, but she seldom became a familiar with them. Mrs. Macdonald, however, found as the journey proceeded that she was not permitted to come to terms of intimacy.

"My dear," said the polite mother, "I am sure that you will find it very pleasant to be in the company of a man of letters. He is a man of letters, and his name is Captain Macdonald."

"Oh, Madeline, you don't grasp things as you should. You will never be a woman of letters unless you have no such. The fact that Mr. Macdonald is a man of letters should lead you all the more to cultivate him."

After the marriage of the Red Sea, Mrs. Van Tromp was sitting one day on deck in a stateroom cabin reading an novel when the wind blew her veil off her head and sent it sailing.

It was picked up by a gentleman with a tawny, curly hair, and who had looked to her with a profound bow. She was so distinguished looking that instead of giving the man a cold stare, she thought that she would have accepted an ordinary person as her husband.

Pointers on Sheep- Raising.

Sheep are easily managed and are the most profitable animal any farmer can keep. One reason why they are the most profitable is that they yield two profits a year—wool and mutton.

There is a breed of sheep that will do well in every location.
Where one breed would starve, another will thrive. We must not compare ourselves to the breed we like best, but adapt ourselves to the conditions in which we live and select animals best suited to bring us success and profit.

We should not neglect to secure the best stock to be bought.
He will pay for himself in one year.

It is to keep the farm
from being a rod of many weeds that are destructive to crops.
They will even eat them in preference to good sweet grass. They will even clean fence corners and keep them clean in the summer.

A good flock will pay much more than a grade flock.
At least that is my experience. I raised and did very well with them.
As the range became settled, I went to a good flock on a good range and over $1,000 annually from the lambs as rams and a few of the best ones as yearlings, not keeping the flock down to about 50 breeding ewes.

My advice to beginners in sheep is to start in a small way. It is a business one learns by experience.
In raising stock of any kind, one makes his own luck.

I cannot emphasize too much the necessity of good care. That is the only way profits will be realized.
If one is interested in his business
it becomes a pleasure and, as well,
it is interesting.

We might remind our honored readers with as much courtesy and deference as possible that when you are spreading the results of your year's work around to your creditors, don't forget
"The Leader." We don't ask for much but hope we will get what we ask for.

We had better fill our coal bins and our flour barrels now, for who knows how long those north winds will blow?

President Wilson has carried to the finish what Cleveland started in 1900. We haven't heard of any families or panics as results of it yet.

These are the results of the weeks examination in arithmetic.

Brief Locals.

Miss. Nellie Davis of Hill-Spring is in town visiting her mother and sisters.

Roy Anderson is again in Raymond after an absence of some months in Barwell.

Mrs. Nellie Cousins of New-Dayton has come to Raymond to spend the winter with her mother Mrs. Alakavise.

Christopher Nielson has been very sick for a few days, it was feared at first it would develop into appendicitis, but at present he is improving.

For some of the finest of Southern Alberta's Meat, have a look in the PEOPLE'S MEAT MARKET.

Have you seen him? Yes he's Scotch. His name is Billie Glover. He is performing at the REX Saturday night. He is a real live man.

Another diamond ring will be given away at the REX Nov. 15th. Also the cash prizes Sat. night. Tomorrow night Scotch man Billie Glover.

Mrs. B. H. Bitner leaves shortly for Salt Lake, where she is going to recuperate from a nervous breakdown. Mrs. Bitner has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson, of Calgary, relatives of Mrs. J. F. Gordon, stopped at Raymond a few days while on their way from Salt Lake to Calgary.

Mrs. Joo. Elder of Taber has purchased the Duke residence. She intends residing in Raymond with her family in the future. Mr. Geo. Cliff and family who have been occupying the house are moving into the home formerly occupied by Bert Kirkham on Broadway.

Hallowells Symphony Orchestra is the attraction at the opera house tomorrow night. This Company has already made for itself a fine reputation in Raymond and needs no introduction but we heartily recommend this Company to the elite theatre goers of Raymond. Don't miss this, it is good.

The big trainmen ball will be given by the railroad men and friends of the McCleod district on Nov. 12th in the opera house. There will be a special train from the north country and between four and five hundred guests are expected to be present. The tickets will be three dollars per couple, supper and all included.

The Schubert Symphony Club which entertained the Raymond public last Saturday night gave a very high class performance.

There was an appreciative, good sized audience to greet them. The concert which they gave consisted of classical selections played in a thoroughly professional way. The vocalists were especially good consisting of an excellent coloratura soprano and a very good mazzo soprano. All music lovers were given a rare treat and it is to such entertainments that the Raymond public should be encouraged in supporting.

The local hot air artist, or in other words Managing Editor, Society Editor, job foreman etc, left the "devil" in charge at the office last Wednesday and with shot gun in hand rode forth like a true knight to shoot a little wild game to keep the office cat from starving, delinquent subscribers, who ought to be prosecuted for cruelty to animals only smiling maliciously at the poor emaciated creature. He succeeded in bagging two chickens and a goose, Tommy Ott declaring that the latter was the editor himself. This was denied by the editor, who says the goose was a duck like the Larker — all squeak.
